New England's Monthly Numismatic Catalog

This Month: Offerings from the 1980 ANA Convention

New England Rare Coin Galleries' numismatists have just returned from the 1980 American Numismatic Association Convention in Cincinnati. As most collectors know, the ANA is the largest and most famous coin convention in the nation. Thousands attend this grand event every year — and many reserve their finest coinage and currency for trading at this important show.

This year was no exception. New England numismatists located many superb specimens of rare coinage and currency at the 1980 ANA. Many of our ANA purchases — particularly those in the U.S. coin and currency categories — are being offered in this issue of Inventory Selections<sup>TM</sup> for the very first time. Others are still being carefully graded by our staff and will appear next month. New England's ANA purchases in the ancient and world coin categories will appear in the September issue of New England World Selections<sup>TM</sup>, scheduled for release on September 22. (A free trial subscription to New England World Selections can be obtained by writing to New England, or by calling our toll-free phone number.)

New England Rare Coin Auctions, our auction division, reminds you that catalogs for our next public rare coin auction, the David K. Carnegie Sale, are now available. See the announcement in this issue of Inventory Selections for complete ordering information.

As always, an order of $150 or more from this catalog will entitle you to a free 12-issue subscription to Inventory Selections. An order of $275 or more entitles you to 24 issues.

September Special Value

POPULAR "WITH CENTS" DESIGN
LIBERTY NICKELS

Liberty Head Nickels were designed by Charles E. Barber, Chief Engraver of the Philadelphia Mint, and first appeared in 1883 without the word "cents" on the coin, merely a large letter "V." These "centless" coins were goldplated and passed for five dollars. Later in that year the word "cents" was added. Liberty Nickels with the popular "with cents" design were issued from 1883 to 1912.

New England is offering a special savings on Liberty Nickels of the "with cents" design in September only. Our choice of date.

The Gallery Window

A special series profiling
New England Rare Coin Galleries' numismatic experts.

Jill Hansen

Few coin enthusiasts have the pleasure of examining the finest rarities first hand, so they attempt to unravel the complexities of numismatics through reference books. That's why Jill Hansen's entree into the rare coin field was so unique. "Shortly after graduating from the University of Maine at Orono with a degree in Journalism, I joined New England's Wholesale Department. I processed thousands of top-quality new purchases and coins submitted for appraisal, and became immersed in the study of coins. There can't be a better way to learn the basics of coins and grading."

The more Jill examined coins the more enthusiastic she became. In her spare time, she consulted dozens of numismatic books and acquired a solid background in U.S. coinage. Jill's knowledge and ambition soon earned her a promotion to New England's staff of Professional Numismatists. In addition to sales responsibilities, Jill now manages New England's unique retail gallery. Much of the Boston-area clientele place rare coins in their retirement plans or in trust funds for their children's educations. "They are investing their family's future in rare coins. That's why I take my job so seriously. Each coin must be selected with the greatest care. Although I work individually with each client, I have a wealth of professional resources behind me. At New England, each numismatist has an area of expertise that is gladly shared.

"It's unfortunate that some of our most gorgeous coins are hastily stashed in bank vaults. I make a special effort to help my clients gain an appreciation of the aesthetic and historic value of rare coins so that they can proudly talk about their collection. When I assemble a rare coin portfolio, for instance, I try to include varieties and denominations my clients have probably never seen. I hope the unfamiliar Two Cent Piece or Barber Dime will spark their interest in rare coins."

Jill resides in suburban Boston and enjoys sailing, racquetball and writing. She is constantly adding to her personal coin collection. "Actually, I had a collection of silver dollars when I was growing up. As soon as they started to tarnish, I pulled out the Gorham Silver Polish. Naturally, I've learned a thing or two since then."

LOWEST MINTAGE DATE
1909-S V.D.B. LINCOLN CENT, MS-65

Designer Victor D. Brenner's initials appear on a limited quantity of 1909 cents. The San Francisco Mint produced the smallest issue before the initials were removed, creating the scarcest Lincoln Cent. Lincolns are "hot," and this is an excellent time to acquire one of these rare and popular 1909-S cents in MS-65 condition.

September Special Value

SCARCE DATE IN GEM CONDITION 1865 THREE CENT NICKEL, MS-65

Three cent pieces struck in nickel were designed by James B. Longacre to replace the silver three cent coins. They were created to alleviate the shortage of circulating coins caused by the Civil War and were issued from 1865-1889. This date, while common in circulated condition, is extremely scarce in gem condition.

PROOF-63, TONED. Attractive violet and golden toning. Unquestionably an authentic Proof with full blazing Proof surfaces and without a trace of mint frost. A few Proof 1891-O quarters are known, but this is the first dime we have ever seen or heard of. A discovery piece and undoubtedly of great rarity. ....

The 1980 A.N.A. Convention

More than 12,000 collectors and dealers gathered in Cincinnati from all over the world on August 18-23 for the American Numismatic Association's 89th Anniversary Convention. This year's convention was not only one of the largest but also one of the best in A.N.A. history, with a busy bourse area, a record A.N.A.-sponsored auction and several new educational programs. The Young Numismatists, for instance, attended their first professional Young Numismatists Auction and participated in their first open YN forum at the 1980 convention. The six-day event also afforded thousands of numismatists the chance to share their knowledge, achievements and love of their hobby.

The 89th Anniversary Convention was probably the largest in dimension in A.N.A. history. Including dealers and their personnel, more than 12,700 registered for the convention.

The Cincinnati Convention Center was well-designed, allowing easy access to the more than 350 dealers' tables on the bourse.

A prospective buyer carefully surveys a dealer's display case on the bourse floor.

Demand for top-quality foreign coinage was unprecedented at this year's A.N.A.

On the bourse floor, between 10 and 15 dealers displayed and traded U.S. currency

Early copper coinage was actively sought by collectors and dealers alike. Here a dealer located an Indian Cent for an eager collector.

The staff of the A.N.A.'s certification service advises conventioners from the ANACS table on the bourse floor.

New England Rare Coin Galleries' and Auctions' booths on the bourse were a hub of activity.

The proceeds from Lot #1 in New England's Boston Jubilee Auction — a colorful commemorative poster — were donated to the A.N.A.'s Young Numismatist Fund. Here Florence Schook, A.N.A. Governor and YN Chairwoman (center), accepts the $1,000 gift from Susan Bradley, Manager of New England Rare Coin Auctions (left), and Luise Cahill Dittrich, Director of Gallery Advertising Associates (right).

Dealers and collectors took time out from their busy schedules to pursue the newly published numismatic reference books that were on display on the convention floor.

Yesterday's headlines...

...are today's collectibles.

In 1976, 407,283 silver dollars were purchased for $7.3 million from the estate of millionaire LaVere Redfield. This was the world's largest private numismatic transaction — later recorded in the Guinness Book of World Records and in countless national news stories. Today, New England Rare Coin Galleries offers a special selection of Morgan Dollars from this historic hoard — each hand selected by our own numismatists.

ANA's 10th anniversary convention in Reno, Nev., was a landmark event for the numismatic community. The convention, which ran from August 23 to September 1, 1976, was the largest and most successful in the history of the American Numismatic Association. The convention was held at the historic Girard Bank, which had been the site of the 1896 World's Fair. It was good to see you at ANA last month. Not long after I left the New England table I was offered a 1795 "Jefferson" cent which didn't look quite right to me. Afterwards I looked in the "Redbook," and found it listed as "not a regular mint issue." Can you offer any more information? I'm afraid I missed a real "find." — CM, College Park, MD

The Jefferson Cent — so-called for its faint resemblance to Jefferson's profile — is widely believed to be either an 18th Century counterfeit or a fantasy piece concocted by a Mint employee "idly trying his hand," as Large Cent expert Dr. Sheldon put it. Even so, the coin has been accepted by collectors for more than a century, and its place in the "Redbook" is secure. The Jefferson Cent is extremely rare and is unknown in Mint State. Many counterfeits exist. If the piece you saw in Cincinnati had a crude, porous surface, yet very sharp edges and rims, it is probably a fake of the "authentic" original.

It is interesting to note that the Large Cents of 1795 were the first to achieve national distribution and circulation. Previously, almost all coins produced at the U.S. mint in Philadelphia went into local circulation.

I've been watching your offerings of ancient coins and musing on the decline of contemporary numismatic art. How is it possible that coins — which once displayed the most beautiful and vigorous art of their age are now so uninspiring? — T.M., Boston, MA

Well . . . we see your point, and we'll bet a Susan B. Anthony dollar that many numismatists agree. But we can't agree that coin art has gone straight downhill since 450 B.C. The truth is, the art has been reborn from time to time, around the world, and a discriminating collector can find many truly beautiful coins without necessarily looking to Ancient Greece and Rome.

Incidentally, ancient coinage has not always been so much to modern tastes as it is nowadays. The critical opinion of many late 19th century collectors on Ancient Greek coins acknowledged their historical and archeological value, but tended to dismiss them as crude, primitive efforts far surpassed by the "modern marvels" of machine minting and new alloys.

While most coin catalogs list British coins of fairly recent vintage, every now and again I see coins of the English hammered series. What exactly is a "hammered" coin? — G.V., Tulsa, OK

The short answer is that a hammered coin is a coin made before 1600. The process used to make these coins gave them their name. A gold or silver blank of the correct weight was placed between two dies. The upper die was then struck one or more blows with a heavy hammer. The obverse and reverse designs were thus impressed on the coin blank. This was the only way, aside from casting, which coins could be manufactured before the introduction of the coin press, powered first by men or horses, and later by steam. Coins made by the press are known as "milled," and although milled coins were produced in England in the time of Elizabeth I, the mint reverted to hammering again for nearly 100 years, until the presses were improved upon.

Hammered coins were made under poor conditions and, in many cases, they were not perfectly circular. This gave rise to clipping, since a little piece nipped off would not prevent a coin from passing a normal trade. In fact, many of the people who handled hammered coins carried a pair of shears and a small bag, and supplemented their income by selling clippings for remelting. This practice was widespread as can be seen by the condition of many of the hammered coins that exist today. A badly clipped coin has much reduced value to the collector.

I'm a longtime collector of colonial coinage and have decided to expand my interests to paper money of that period. I'm told that Benjamin Franklin designed paper money for the 13 colonies during the Revolution. Are you familiar with this currency? — D.B., Alexandria, VA

With the outbreak of the American Revolution, there was a need to support the under-financed emergent nation. The Continental Congress decided to issue its own paper money and to circulate it throughout the 13 colonies as a uniform legal tender. Throughout the war, some 11 different issues were made in denominations from unusual fractions of a dollar such as one-third up to 80 dollars. Benjamin Franklin designed a one-third dollar note in 1776.

The Continental Congress planned to redeem this currency with funds raised with future taxes. However, because the question of taxes had precipitated the war, it is not surprising that this was never seriously undertaken. In 1775-1776, this Continental currency circulated at face value. Then, as more and more issues were made, the currency began to lose value. Prices in Continental currency began to rise, and at the height of the inflation, $5,000 in Continental currency would have been needed to buy just one pair of shoes. It was said at the time that a wagonload of money would not buy a wagonload of goods. As the first paper money of the U.S. collapsed, the phrase "not worth a Continental" was heard throughout the land. Finally, in 1790, it was announced that Continental currency could be exchanged, at just 1% of face value, for Treasury Bonds.

By the way, there are collectors who specialize in "currency of inflation." Most notable of this type of currency are: the paper money of France following the French Revolution (1789-1797); the paper money of Germany following World War I (1920-1923); and the paper money of Hungary following World War II (1945-1946).

Market Report

by Tim LaPointe

At the shows

Numerous Coin conventions and auctions dotted last month's numismatic calendar, including the Garden State Show (August 1-3), the Missouri Numismatic Association Convention (August 8-10), the American Numismatic Association Convention (August 16-24) and auctions by New England Rare Coin Auctions (1980 Boston Jubilee Auction held July 24-26) and Paramount, Stacks, and Superior (Auction 80 held August 14-16). The ANA Convention was extremely well-attended, with an unusually large number of dealers from overseas, and buying activity was heavy. The greatest success was enjoyed by dealers in foreign coinage and by dealers who were most in touch with the current market, as witnessed by New England Rare Coin Galleries' record show sales in the $2 million range (including more than $150,000 dealer-to-dealer foreign sales.)

Gold

Since our last report, gold bullion rose slightly and is currently at the $635 level. Rare date gold coins in higher grades continue to command premium prices. At the 1980 Boston Jubilee Auction, a 1910-S Indian Half Eagle in MS-63 from the collection of Dr. Charles G. Niemeyer brought $29,700 in wild floor bidding. At the ANA Convention, a rare 1852 $50 Territorial Slug in Choice Mint State traded hands at a high five-figure level, and the new owner turned down several profits immediately afterward. The market for Proof Gold seems to have softened since our last report.

Silver

Silver bullion is currently at $16.12 per ounce, up about $1 since June. Demand for silver type coins in outstanding condition continues to be strong with regard to certain rarities. This was evident when the Stanley J. Woollams Collection was sold in July. For example, Dr. Woollams' 1807 Draped Bust Half Dollar in MS-69 brought a $35,200 record price, while his 1866 Seated Dollar With Motto in MS-67 brought $37,400, and his 1875 Trade Dollar in MS-69 brought a $20,900 winning bid. Superb specimens of Morgan Dollars in key and semi-key dates realized outstanding prices at recent shows and auctions. At Auction 80, for instance, an 1893-0 brought $57,500. At the ANA Convention, a non-prooflike 1897-S brought $3,000. Proof Morgan Dollars, on the other hand, are not so strong as they were in June. In the dime market, 20th Century Mercury Dimes in gem condition with full split bands commanded premium prices.

Copper

At Auction 80, early copper coinage showed considerable strength with the pace being led by an uncirculated Chain Cent which brought $120,000 and a Mint State 1793 Half Cent which brought $42,000. At the ANA Convention, early copper coins were actively sought, bucking the otherwise calm market for type coins. Demand for original full-red Indian Cents and Large Cents is still very strong.

Currency

Interest in U.S. currency continues to build, with most of the activity in two areas — fractional and small size U.S. notes. While Gem U.S. type notes are trading at normal market levels, the dramatic price surges of the early spring are behind us. Despite an anticipated surge in the market price, resistance still exists among dealers for notes costing $5,000 and up.

At the ANA Convention, there were between 10 and 15 dealers who displayed and traded U.S. currency. Most were building inventory for the Greater New York Paper Money Convention held September 4-6. The publishers of The Coin Dealer Newsletter (the Grey Sheet) introduced The Currency Dealer Newsletter at the ANA. Printed on brown paper, this newsletter covers U.S. type notes that are most often traded and includes the grading terminology used by many dealers, with price structures for New, Choice New and Gem New Notes. The Currency Dealer Newsletter is the second currency price listing to appear this year.

World Coins

Activity at the ANA Convention was hectic. Demand for top-quality foreign coins in all metals was constant. The buyers seeking this type of material far outnumbered the sellers. By the second day of the convention, most of the leading dealers in attendance had been "picked clean." Gem BU and Proof German and English coins were conspicuous by their very absence. The few coins available traded hands at prices far above their current Money Trend valuations. The dealers who were successful in purchasing the top material offered at the auction and the bourse did so by stretching their buying prices to the limits. The dealers from England, France, Spain, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Mexico and Japan brought token stock to the convention and expected to buy material there. Because choice foreign coinage was in such short supply, many of these dealers returned home empty-handed, having sold their limited stocks. A large number of dealers who formerly dealt exclusively in U.S. coins were spending considerable amounts on choice foreigners.

Highlights from Boston Jubilee Auction

The 1980 Boston Jubilee Auction Realizes $4.2 Million for New England Consignors

On July 24-26, New England Rare Coin Auctions, a division of New England Rare Coin Galleries, conducted the 1980 Boston Jubilee Auction. Two major rare coin collections and many individual rarities were liquidated at that sale. Foremost among the consignments was the Niemeyer Collection of $5 and $10 Indian Gold. Dr. Charles G. Niemeyer, distinguished actor, author and theater historian, assembled these elegant, virtually complete sets of Indian Gold in approximately three years. Collectors and dealers agree that a collection of this calibre generally takes 15 years to assemble. The total price realized for all of Dr. Niemeyer's coins, sold individually, was $270,000. The second major collection liquidated at the sale was an extraordinary group of coins assembled by Dr. Stanley J. Woollams, M.D. The Woollams Collection featured an exquisite Half Dollar type set, including an 1807 Draped Bust Half Dollar in MS-69, as well as a startling array of Trade Dollars. Featured here are just a few highlights from this sale, and a graph representing the performance of the Niemeyer Collection.

World Coins

Collecting ancient and world coins is one of man's oldest hobbies. The Emperor Nero collected coins from Greece. Fourteenth century Italian nobles collected Roman coins. English gentlemen of old considered the study of ancient coins a crucial part of a proper education. Today, ancient and world coin collecting is the fastest-growing area in numismatics.

Inventory Selections is proud to present the following offerings of ancient and world coins taken from the latest issue of New England's bi-monthly world coin catalog, New England World Selections. When ordering, please refer to the "W-numbers" that appear before each coin listing. If you'd like a free trial subscription to New England World Selections, which offers New England's entire ancient and world coin inventory, call or write to New England Rare Coin Galleries.

A U.S. CURRENCY SPECIAL

$5 SMALL SIZE LEGAL TENDER AT SPECIAL SAVINGS

In September, New England Rare Coin Galleries is offering a select number of $5 1928-B Small Size Legal Tender Notes, FR# 1527, at special value prices. These notes were issued the year U.S. currency was reduced to its present 6" x 2 3/4" size. By the 1920's, the number of notes produced annually had reached astronomical figures. The Treasury Department realized that millions of dollars could be saved by reducing the size of currency and, on July 10, 1929, the first Small Size Legal Tender Notes were put into circulation. Because of the limited availability of these notes, we ask that you order soon.

Our Complete Numismatic Services

1. Guarantees

☐ Grading

We guarantee that coins purchased from us are graded correctly and will meet our high standards when you wish to sell them. Further, we guarantee to purchase these coins at the same grade at which they were sold, or sell them for you at auction cataloged at the same grade at which you purchased them.

Our grading system is patterned after that of the American Numismatic Association. Developed in 1978, the A.N.A. System is rapidly being adopted by virtually the entire professional numismatic community. Its designations are:

Poor.....	1
Fair.....	2
About Good.....	3
Good.....	4,5
Very Good.....	8,10
Fine.....	12,15
Very Fine.....	20,25,30,35
Extremely Fine.....	40,45
About Uncirculated.....	50,55,58
Mint State.....	60,63,64,65,66,67,69,70
Proof.....	60,63,65,67,69,70

Slash grades indicate obverse/reverse designations. For example, a grade of 65/63 describes a coin with an obverse of Mint State 65 and a reverse of Mint State 63.

☐ Authenticity

We further guarantee that all coins sold by New England Rare Coin Galleries are authentic. To protect our customers, and as proof of our certainty that no altered or counterfeit coin can escape our attention, we guarantee to refund the full purchase price plus 15% compound annual interest, on any non-authentic coin acquired from us.

☐ Documentation

These guarantees are issued in writing with all coins purchased from New England Rare Coin Galleries. Each written guarantee is personally endorsed by two professional numismatists.

☐ Satisfaction

If, for any reason, you are not satisfied with your purchases, you may return them within 45 days of the date you received them for a full refund or replacement.
